Recognizing the Direct Object in a Sentence

A direct object receives the action of the verb. It tells you the what or whom after the verb. Example: Joey watered the plants. The direct object of the verb watered is plants.

1. Annie passed the baton.
2. Jerry lifted his brother.
3. He cut an apple.
4. Julie chose a pink flower.
5. She called her friend.
6. Dad cooked hamburgers.
7. Marty rode his bike.
8. Amy played tag with her friends.
9. Mrs. Petry bought milk.
10. Joan asked me for help.